Skippin' has the pedigree, with the performance and proof to go with it. Like her dam, Skippin' is a moderate size doe but very correct, both in general appearance and mammary. Her foreudder is even longer than her dam, she has a wide and very smoothly blended rear udder. She excels in dairy strength being open and flat boned, with a strong deep chest. And, she milks well too, with a high test of 20.4 lbs, and over 4300 lbs, despite travelling over 4,000 miles to Nationals! Skippin' has been a strong and consistent doe in the showing, whether showing fresh or on an extended lactation. She is a quiet, no drama type of doe, and is one of our favorites, even without the accolades. At 12 years old, Skippin' will be given a well deserved retirement.

Champion and Reserve Best Udder

You can't complain about a doe that can be Reserve National Champion one year, and have a daughter that wins it the next! Sailin' is a favorite for her beautiful general appearance and fun personality. She has a well attached udder with a particularly nice rear udder and medial. Her foreudder could be more smoothly blended, but she does have good lateral extension and is easy to milk with nice teats. Most breeders would agree that 3,300 lbs is at least a decent lactation, but when you figure in a doe that freshened in Feb with a single kid, and then travelled over 5,000 miles to shows, it looks pretty dang good! Sadly, an abnormal pregnancy in Dec 2019 cost Sailin' her kids and we thought her reproductive future. An attempt at IVF revealed severe adhesions. So, with nothing to lose, we bred her again and she kidded in February with twins! After a stifle injury last summer, we made the impossible but right decision to do a terminal IVF and let her go before winter set in.

From a promising yearling to one of our best, Sprocket just kept on the right track. Like her dam Spindle vs Living Free, Sprocket had the disadvantage to be Jacquie's age mate and was often overlooked. Their solution? Simply work harder. Sprocket is a strong, solid doe with correct general appearance and excels in dairy strength. She has a high, wide rear udder, correct medial and nice teat placement. She was a slow maturing doe, but never took a day off, just gradually grew up while milking well the entire time. We love this type of doe, and are equally excited about her younger sisters.

When you have a National Junior Champion, you just hold your breath until they freshen. This one was worth the wait! Trippin' is ideal in her structural type and dairy strength. She is a favorite for her dairy strength and easy demeanor. I could watch this doe all day! Her Freelance daughters are very special to us as well, with all the correctness and style of their dam. We also kept her buck and doe from her AI to Noble Springs RHZR Bizmarck. That daughter is a mini me to Trippin'. We suddenly and unexpectedly lost Trippin' on Christmas '23. It will be a long time before I recover from this loss as she was my personal favorite of the entire barn.

Purchased in utero and born here, Blacky has a lot of interesting pieces to her pedigree that I admire, including Sasin, Freelance, X-Rated, and Mojave. She is a capacious doe with a well attached and shapely udder and excellent dairy strength. Fresh 2/2020, she milked a steady 13-15 lbs on predominately grass pasture and despite our chaotic year finished over 3700 lbs. When she had a single buck and wasn't milking as much in '21, we decided it was time to show her and she easily finished in her first weekend! Fresh in '22 with twins, she milked 4,000 lbs. Blacky's daughter Damsel also handily finished her GCH in one weekend, with a BUIS while showing as a FF 2 yr old 13 mos fresh!

These AI triplets are the Alpine version of our Saanen triplets. As they mature they are having the same success as their white counterparts! They are 2 yr olds here, now 4 they are all FS92-93 and over 3800 lb milk! They are full sisters to SGCH Sprocket FS92, 4,100 lbs milk. Yeah, we're a little excited...

What's even better news? Thanks to IVF, we have more full sisters born in 2021! Six full sisters is not too many when they are as hard working and pretty as these. In June '21, Spindle gave us one last doe kid, Rya, sired by Handyman as her final gift. Rest in peace dear girl, you were ever a special one.

We are pleased with the dairyness of this pair and the solid production they have shown. Regardless if they freshen in spring or fall, or on a milk through lactation, they are consistently our highest production does. Smooth finished her GCH in a couple weekends at 7 months fresh while Kalei has become our highest production doe.

Bastilla is even more than we hoped for with this breeding. Correct, fancy, and yet still has a lot of room to grow and mature. Adding a year of maturity and production on this fancy yearling has made her truly breathtaking.

Talent is a prime example of why we simply let our yearlings be yearlings. She was a long, tall, gangly thing with a dam(n) raised attitude. Fast forward two years, and she is now deep and long, with a correct and capacious udder, and is willing to be shown and handled without a fuss. My personal favorite Alpine yearling in '22, Beat is really fancy in her general appearance and freshened in April 2022 with a capacious and correct udder. She was milking 12-13 lbs as a yearling, so we milked her through, only to have her abruptly dry off in May. Naughty girl! Now she's grown into a big and rather chunky doe, though still beautiful. She is bred for spring freshening, hopefully we'll be able to get her to some shows next year.

Like her dam and her older sister, Ganache, Skor is a work in progress and will need a few years to mature. In the meantime, she milked 9-12 lbs from a very correct udder as yearling. Her sister was 5x1st, 1xGCH as a 2 yr old and easily finished her GCH and scored FS92 as a three yr old, and her dam is still winning BIS at 9 years old. We milked Skor through this year, and she has gained enough depth to score E in body capacity and FS90 over all. Now fresh again in November, Skor is bringing a welcome 15 lbs of winter milk into the parlor. Photo milking yearling (sorry, no new pictures)

Lightfoot and Tapestry are ET full sisters to Sprocket, Weft, Woof and Warp. Lightfoot freshened a year ago in June and is worth every bit of the IVF hassle. She doesn't look like a yearling that milked nearly 4,000 lbs, and is continuing to milk a steady 15 lbs on a milk through lactation, but she is. Tapestry was a dry yearling following a nasty leg injury. It has healed well and she freshened with a super high rear udder, nice fore, and is the show goat of the two.

We are thrilled with this pair of AI kids from our beloved Trippin'. They are everything I ask for in a young doe—correct, classy, productive, and most important, very immature. Both were super fancy milking yearlings with well shaped udders, near ideal teats and medial, level toplines and correct feet and legs and as 2 yr olds were still immature, but bigger. CeCe is milking all her body away, but maintaining her correct structure. The body will come with time, and we appreciate putting 16 lbs of milk into the tank while we are waiting. They have their dam's National Junior Champion general appearance, with even nicer rear udders. It's a good thing I'm patient, because these will be worth the wait!

I was hoping for more than a giant single buck with this AI, but at least he's gorgeous. His dam, Plain and Brown, aka "Peanut butter" is a show stopping doe in general appearance with an excellent udder, very reminiscent of her granddam Living Free. Unfortunately, she sustained a hip injury and was rehomed to a smaller herd for her benefit. Brown's first kids were the fanciest we have ever had, including Paisley, our record setting Spotlight Sale doe. As they freshen, they are showing correct udders to go with that fancy general appearance. Brown is a beautiful correct and dairy buck with an amazing temperament and is fast becoming my favorite go to buck in breeding season.

TEMPO AQUILA STANDING FREE

born 3/22 American sundgau

After seeing several lovely Bismarck daughters when we visited Noble Springs in 2020, we were excited to get an AI son from our favorite doe, even if it meant we needed to sell Taylor to keep him. Stand is a classy, long and level buck kid that we will use heavily.

NOBLE-SPRINGS TAYLOR sold, reference only

born 2/20 American chamoise

We rarely use a buck from a herd that doesn't have production records, but I have long admired the Noble Springs Alpines (and Saanens too!), so when the search began for a buck to increase bone and rear leg set, as well as improve teat placement, that's where I went. When Dustin sent photos of Tinka and her daughter, both on extended locations, the choice was an easy one to make. We picked him up at the farm, and were solidly impressed with the herd and pleased with all of his close relatives. We used him on many of our best does and are excited about the several doe kids we kept.
